Running a family meeting about care

How siblings and family members can make care decisions together, with less conflict.

- Invite everyone who will help or decide, in person or by video
- Share facts first: what the doctor said, what has happened, what it costs
- Ask what your loved one wants; include them if possible
- Divide roles: decision-maker, finances, visits, paperwork, the house
- Agree on next steps and a date to check in
- Write it down and share notes with everyone
- If you are stuck, a geriatric care manager, social worker or mediator can help
